

Jewellery / Wed, 21st February 2018 / Lot 695

LOT 695

A cabochon emerald, ruby and cultured pearl necklace, the front with cultured pearl drops, probably Austro-Hungarian second half of the 19th century, length 43cm, with a later case (some drops lacking).

Estimate: £200 - £300

Condition Report

695. Six drops are lacking from the six cultured pearls at the front. There are two further loops to the chain that have no drops. These may have originally been fitted with cultured pearls. The pendant drop at the front is probably a link taken from the chain. Some red gemstones are not rubies. The hook of the clasp is near to the front of the necklace. Weight 29g.

Created: Thu, 15th February 2018 12:11