

Tribal Art / Wed, 21st February 2018 / Lot 731

LOT 731

A Dogon Kanaga mask, Mali, the carved angular mask typically modelled with a double-barred cross superstructure, the surface finished in white and black pigments, height 110cm, mounted on a stand. Provenance: from the estate of the renowned artist, the late Alan Davie (1920-2014).

Estimate: £300 - £500

Condition Report

731. Some overall typical surface wear and some typical deterioration to some of the edges. The upper bar is slightly loose on one side as the leather has come away from one hole. Otherwise fairly typical condition.

Created: Tue, 20th February 2018 16:20