LOT 2503

A late 19th century Continental painted terracotta figure of a seated black boy, possibly Goldscheider, modelled with his legs crossed, height 40cm, upon a small wooden chair.
Provenance: from the estate of the late Nellie Lenson-Smith (1928-2017).

Estimate: £150 - £250

Condition Report

2503. The left foot appears to have been broken out at the ankle and professionally restored. There are a few minor re-painted touches, but otherwise some minor loss to the painted surface, mainly to the high points.
