

LOT 1269

A Chinese famille rose porcelain bottle vase, late Qing dynasty, painted with a continuous battle scene, height 45cm (section of rim missing), together with a wood stand and a Chinese blue and white porcelain moonflask, late 19th century, painted with opposing figural scenes, height 35cm (neck damaged).

Estimate: £80 - £120

---

Condition Report

1269. Bottle vase - approx one third section of neck rim missing, typical wear to gilding. Wooden stand - losses and splits. Moonflask - approx half section of neck broken away in one large and some smaller pieces and visibly glued, but with some losses along the break lines. Middle section of one handle missing.