LOT 1487

A collection of English porcelain plates, early 19th century and later, including a Daniel dessert plate, centrally decorated with shells within a mazarine blue and fruit and flower panelled border, iron red painted '4012' to base, diameter 22cm, and a pair of Minton plates, each painted with a dockside scene, titled to reverse 'Dover' and 'Dieppe', iron red painted '3357' to bases (minor faults).

Estimate: £100 - £150

Condition Report

1487. Daniel plate - has been broken into several pieces and re-glued. The decoration is in good condition and so is the gilding, although it has been retouched in areas where the plate has been re-glued. Pair Copeland Garrett plates - one with some heavy wear to gilding at the centre, one with minor wear to gilding overall. Otherwise both in good condition. Pair of cream and gilt plates - both have overall crazing. Cream and floral spray plate - broken and re-glued. All other plates have minor surface wear/scratching, but are in generally good condition, no chips, cracks or repairs.
