LOT 1124

A mid-19th century French ormolu and porcelain mantel clock with eight day movement striking on a bell, the backplate with stamped Henry Marc maker's mark, the porcelain circular dial with black Roman numerals, birds, flowers and green border, the case with two-handled porcelain urn surmount above further porcelain panels of a courting couple and flowers, flanked by mask and scroll sides and foliate borders, on toupie feet, height 44cm, with pendulum and winding key.

Estimate: £500 - £700

Condition Report

1124. A French ormolu clock basically in good condition with porcelain panel intact apart from minor loss of 'jewels'. Mechanism appears to run and strike on a bell. There are some spare holes in the ormolu case, indicating that some mounts are missing. Entire case would benefit from a wash. Complete with key and original pendulum.
