Condition Report

696. Coral cameo pendant brooch: the coral cameo is probably early 19th century and is a bit rubbed overall. The mount is fairly modern. Coral putto pendant: slight rubbing to the high points, the feet are a bit chipped, otherwise an attractive rich colour. It is probably the drop from a larger piece. Coral pendant earrings: there is variation to the carved design, they are probably two associated drops, later mounted as earrings, fittings in good condition and look to be gilt metal. Putto - weight 2g, length 2.9cm Pair earrings - weight 5.1g, total length of each earring 4.6cm. Brooch weight 8.9g.
