LOT 2801

A 17th century silk stumpwork and chenille rectangular panel depicting the biblical scene of 'The Binding of Isaac', the two central figures of Abraham and Isaac surrounded by trees, plants, animals, birds and further figures, all worked in coloured silks, 31cm x 40cm, mounted within a 19th century mahogany frame.

Estimate: £2,000 - £3,000

Condition Report

2801. Centre of panel is reasonably good with some areas of split silk below main figures and two edges. Brown staining and deterioration down left side, centre lower section and top right. General deterioration and loss around edges and loss of thread to the figure top right. Some colours still fairly strong but in need of restoration.
