

Art Pottery / Friday, 7th September 2018 / Lot 4080

LOT 4080

A set of three William de Morgan 'Moffatt' pattern pottery tiles, Merton Abbey period, circa 1882-1888, painted in purple, green, brown and turquoise, impressed marks to reverse, 15.3cm x 15.3cm. Note: this tile design is illustrated in 'The Designs of William de Morgan' by Martin Greenwood, page 137cm.

Estimate: £300 - £500

Condition Report

4080. Each fairly crazed and with some grout remnants to side edges. One with small chip to glazed corner edge, one with minor glaze fritting and narrow slice chip to edge, one with very minor chip to underside corner.

Created: Thu, 30th August 2018 14:16