

LOT 2599

Keith Newstead - a late 20th century carved composition stone nude female torso of stylized form, modelled with a flowing drape over one shoulder, mounted upon a large circular trough base, bearing incised artist's initials 'KN', height 134cm.

Estimate: £300 - £500

Condition Report

2599. In generally good, but weathered, condition. No significant damage or repairs to the figure. Typical scuffs, chips and scrapes to the circular stand. PLEASE NOTE: the circular stand is extremely heavy and not something that can be humanly lifted. The successful purchaser will therefore need to arrange their own mechanical lifting apparatus.
