LOT 2014

A late 19th century Ceylonese carved hardwood architectural wall shelf, the sloping serpentine top carved with repeating bands of leaves above an open portico with carved column supports and arched niches, height 52cm, width 96cm (possibly from a larger piece of furniture).

Estimate: £200 - £400

Condition Report

2014. Clearly would have originally been sat on the top of a larger piece of furniture. Some chips around front edge of top and a few dents and bumps to the edges.
