LOT 4148

A Canton school export gouache painting on paper, early 19th century, depicting three gardeners watering trees, 37cm x 50cm, framed and glazed. Note: produced for export in the 18th and 19th century, gouache paintings of popular subjects such as Chinese commerce and agricultural production were painted by studios of artists working in the thriving port of Guangdong. Perhaps the most prolific studio was that of the artist Guan Lianchang, known to westerners by the name Tingqua (1809-1870).

Estimate: £200 - £400
