

Asian and Islamic Ceramics and Works of Art / Thu, 29th November 2018 / Lot 1100

LOT 1100

A Chinese famille verte double-sided hollow porcelain rectangular panel or tile, Kangxi period, one side painted with a figural scene of a dignitary and attendants in an interior setting within a trellis border cornered with iron red and gilt ruyi heads, the reverse with three figures, pavilions, trees and mountains in a coastal landscape, the upper left corner inscribed in gilt with an eight line poem and iron red seal mark, within a green ground flower-filled border, 26.2cm x 16.7cm (minor flaking to blue enamels).

Estimate: £800 - £1,200

---

Condition Report

1100. Overall good condition with no chips, cracks or repairs. Some typical light surface wear and minor scratches to glaze on both sides. Some enamel loss to the blue colouring on both sides, most notably the upper jacket of one figure to upper left corner of image, otherwise the enamel loss is relatively minor to a few flowers. Some rubbing to gilt inscription but still readable. Most of these condition issues will be apparent in our website illustrations which can be enlarged if required.

Created: Fri, 23rd November 2018 10:19