LOT 1057

A Chinese Canton famille rose yellow ground enamel circular dish, late Qing dynasty, painted with a central panel of three maidens in a garden setting, reserved against a dense ground of blue and pink flowerheads and scrolling green tendrils on a yellow ground, unmarked, diameter 33.5cm (some rim restoration).

Estimate: £150 - £250

Condition Report

1057. Some restoration to rim underside along a branched section approx 11cm long, visible due to repainted colour difference, with a smaller area alongside approx 2cm long and an approx 1cm square area of restoration to rim too. All only noticeable to upper surface on close inspection amidst yellow ground. Small starcrack to base underside with spot of enamel loss.
