LOT 1503

A Derby porcelain figure group, circa 1750-80, modelled as a courting couple seated beneath a tree beside a sheep, raised on a naturalistic base, incised 'No. 256' to base, height 28.5cm (restoration).

Estimate: £100 - £150

Condition Report

1503. Firing cracks to base running across diameter of base underside and vertically up front and back of rockwork where it seems to come full circle meeting on top of the rockwork. There are some other hair/firing cracks branching off over the base. Firing cracks to middle of his left leg and indistinctly around his shoulders and to his left thigh. She has a firing fault to the back of her dress. Some minor restoration to bocage which has typical losses.
