LOT 735

A gold, rose cut diamond and seed pearl set oval pendant brooch, mounted with the rose cut diamond in a black enamelled surround within radiating rows of seed pearls and an outer scroll pierced border, mounted with larger half-pearls at intervals, with a locket compartment to the back, fitted with a safety chain, width 4.5cm, with a case.

Estimate: £500 - £700

Condition Report

735. It is possible that the central section of the brooch is part of a locket and is in association with the pearl set openwork surround. The brooch fittings are probably later and the glazing to the locket at the back is missing. There is evidence of glue visible at the back holding the seed pearl set central section into position. Otherwise the brooch has some slight distortion. The original pendant suspension loop which may have been set with seed pearls is now missing. Weight 15.3g.
