

British and Continental Ceramics and Glass / Thursday, 21st March 2019 / Lot 1490

LOT 1490

A Sèvres style cobalt blue ground porcelain jar and cover, the porcelain possibly late 18th century, the decoration 19th century, of U-shape, painted to one side with a rifleman resting by a riverbank, opposing an arrangement of trophies of war, each within gilt framing, the cover with gilt fruit knob, interlaced blue 'L's' mark to base with indistinct incised numerals, height 10cm.

Estimate: £180 - £220

Condition Report

1490. Cover - small chip to underside of rim which slightly encroaches onto top surface of cover, minor staining to underside.

Jar - rubbing to gilt rim, minor scratches to cobalt blue ground between painted panels, remains of adhesive residue to footrim.

Created: Wed, 20th March 2019 10:52