Condition Report

550. There is a uniform degree of surface wear to the beads resulting in some loss of polish. There is a large natural flaw to one of the principal beads. Some of the other beads have a few old surface chips and surface reaching natural inclusions. One or two beads may have been added in and one or two beads are of slightly irregular shape. Otherwise there are a few old chips by some drill holes. One bead would appear to have been badly chipped and repolished as it is uneven in shape.
