LOT 1501

A Flight, Barr & Barr Worcester porcelain vase, 1813-40, the magenta ground urn shaped body reserved with a gilt panel, painted with shells, beneath a gilt gadrooned rim, raised on a circular foot and square base, puce painted and impressed marks to base, height 13cm (restored).

Estimate: £40 - £60

Condition Report

1501. We would suggest the vase originally had handles which have been removed as the magenta ground to each side of the shell panel has been restored/retouched with nothing occurring in these areas to the vase interior. Otherwise the magenta ground has wear/scratches visible to the back and above and below the shell panel. A few minor scratches to the shell panel. Chipping to front left corner of square base. Minor manufacturer's firing cracks to base underside.
