

Glassware / Thursday, 20th June 2019 / Lot 1744

LOT 1744

A large Continental glass tankard, probably German, late 18th century, the cylindrical body cut with two panels of stylized flowerheads within oval facet cut detail, applied with a strap handle, height 18.3cm (small stress crack by handle), together with a similar smaller tankard with engraved decoration (cracked), and a pair of engraved Continental glass beakers, height 11.5cm.

Estimate: £50 - £80

Condition Report

1744. One beaker with shallow chip just below the rim.

Large tankard with stress fracture to base of handle running vertically up body approx 2cm.

Small tankard - cracked at base of handle, forking into three cracks running up and down the body.

Created: Wed, 19th June 2019 12:11