LOT 1296

A Chinese mother-of-pearl inlaid rectangular panel, Qing dynasty, incised and stained with a scene of figures in a fenced garden, length 24cm (formerly a lid of a box and some faults).

Estimate: £50 - £100

Condition Report

1296. This is the top panel from a lid of a box or similar. The wood panel has numerous chips and losses to edge and underside. The panel is also bowed. Mother-of-pearl is generally good but does have some surface wear and abrasions and one small piece missing to lower right corner. Few pieces of mother-of-pearl have lifted slightly.
