

British and Continental Ceramics / Thu, 7th November 2019 / Lot 1404

LOT 1404

An unusual Doulton Burslem twin-faced stoneware inkwell, late 19th century, each side moulded with a face with a different expression beneath an inkwell recess, printed mark to base, height 7.3cm.

Estimate: £60 - £100

Condition Report

1404. Professional restoration to well interior, surface rim and exterior top edge, and similar restoration to base exterior edge with some clear spraying otherwise. This is very well executed and only visible with an expert eye. Otherwise some very minor glaze crazing and minor grazes to both noses.

Created: Wed, 30th October 2019 13:10