Condition Report

2075. Four of the glass panes are cracked. There are some small sections of patched veneer to the corners and edges of the base, some slight cracking to right corner and slight lifting of veneer to top surface. The interior has the usual ink stains and typical wear. The handles are pretty 19th century examples, but have probably been changed from the originals. Also there are some chunks of veneer loss to the bottom edges of the feet.
