

Glassware / Thu, 7th November 2019 / Lot 1619

LOT 1619

An engraved glass ewer decanter and stopper, probably Stourbridge, late 19th century, the wrythen moulded cylindrical body finely engraved with two birds amidst flowers and foliage and trellis detail, beneath the strawberry diamond cut neck and faceted stopper, height 24cm, together with another engraved decanter and stopper of Art Deco influence with Greek key detail, height 29cm.

Estimate: £80 - £120

Condition Report

1619. Ewer - typical wear to interior of neck and stopper. Stopper fits well, but feels stylistically that it could be matched.

Decanter - couple of nibbles to facet edges of stopper, few nicks and nibbles to facet edge on shoulder and body, otherwise ok.

Created: Mon, 4th November 2019 11:29