LOT 1452

An impressive pair of Doulton Lambeth stoneware vases, circa 1879, decorated by Hannah Barlow, monogrammed, each with a continuous border of deer within a mountainous landscape, one also with a fox, framed by foliate borders, impressed and incised marks to bases, heights 40cm and 39.8cm (some restoration).

Estimate: £500 - £700

Condition Report

1452. First with fox decoration - a number of manufacturers firing cracks to foot. Both the neck rim and footrim have some very well executed restoration with associated clear spraying - this is only detectable by an expert eye. The extent is debatable but would appear to be minimal and possibly covering firing cracks. There are some minor manufacturers blemishes to the decoration.

Second without fox decoration - this vase is in much of a similar condition to the first apart from the neck doesn't seem to have been restored. There is a faint approx 4cm long vertical haircrack to the rim.
