Condition Report

650. The panel shaped pendant was probably created in the USA and is of handmade form with the application of various parts of jewellery, including four tops of rings, odd earrings and part lengths of bracelets or necklaces. Extensive samples of the colourless gems test as diamonds. The majority are gemstones but there are a few synthetic gems, including the pink gem at the top. The collar necklace is in association.

Pendant - weight 105g.

Collar - weight 17.9g.
