Condition Report

2015. General appearance and condition is very good for a piece of this age and the overall colour is also very good. There are some relatively minor and fairly typical alterations, comprising changed brassware with visible filled-in holes around the backplates, some general small areas of veneer repairs, some replacement mouldings to the frieze and lower apron, and later replacement feet. There is a small crack to the left corner just below the fall flap, a thin vertical crack to the veneer on the left side and a few small section of damage to the veneer.
