

Clocks and Barometers / Thursday, 19th March 2020 / Lot 1222

LOT 1222

A late 19th/early 20th century Black Forest carved softwood cuckoo clock with weight driven movement striking on a gong, the dial with applied bone Gothic hour numerals, the arched case with bird and vine surmount above double door cuckoo apertures, framed by further fruiting vine and a fox to the apron, height 68cm, with carved vine pendulum and three cast iron pine cone weights (some faults).

Estimate: £80 - £120

Condition Report

1222. Case is generally ok but one leaf to right side of arch has broken off and would need to be re-glued. Also there are signs of old woodworm throughout the carved case and typical minor chips. Applied numerals and hands in good order.

Created: Wed, 18th March 2020 16:24