Condition Report

In good condition overall with no cracks, chips or restoration.

On close inspection there are a small group of scratches to the left side of the neck and a minor approx 0.5cm square surface blemish near to the rim on the back left corner of the neck. These do not detract from the overall appearance of the vase and are only noticeable on close inspection. There are some typical very, very minor and light surface scratches as you would expect commensurate with age and use - but these are nothing untoward. The base underside has the typical wear and scratches you would expect.
