

Glassware / Thu, 19th November 2020 / Lot 1736

LOT 1736

A 'Bristol' blue glass decanter and stopper, late 18th century, of Prussian shape with triple ringed neck and lozenge stopper, height 26cm.

Estimate: £50 - £70

Condition Report

Small manufacturer's firing crack/flaw to one side of stopper which also has tiny nick to base end. The main body is quite heavily scratched overall. There is a teeny tiny nick to the top rim edge and one similar to the edge of the top ring - both of these things are only really noticeable on very close inspection.

Created: Fri, 13th November 2020 09:52