LOT 1338

Estimate: £100 - £150

Condition Report

In good condition overall with no cracks, chips or restoration.

There is noticeable heavy scratching and wear to the burgundy ground. Otherwise the overall wear is as would be expected with the main portrait remaining bright and strong but with light wear to its silver ground and similar to the rim detail. There are some dark areas to the gilding of the rim which would appear to be a manufacturing issue.
