

British and Continental Ceramics / Thu, 19th November 2020 / Lot 1341

LOT 1341

A Rudolstadt Volkstedt porcelain figure of a ballerina, late 19th century, height 31cm (restored), together with a group of Continental porcelain figures, including a bisque example of a boy with a rabbit, height 33cm, a pair of figures in the Meissen style with blue detail and a Chelsea Derby style gallant, height 22.5cm (faults, losses and repairs).

Estimate: £60 - £100

---

Condition Report

Ballerina - she has been professionally restored through the waist and neck, this restoration is incredibly well executed to a high standard, including some repainting, re-gilding and over spraying to the surrounding areas, e.g., the hands; this is all only really noticeable by an expert eye. The gilding around the base is rubbed. Otherwise she is ok.

Created: Fri, 13th November 2020 14:45