Condition Report

2038. The top compartment has what appears to be the original shelves, but there has been a set of lights rigged up along the inside edges and has a large transformer unit attached to the very top. The locks and key escutcheons look original, but the hinges look like later replacements. The shelf in the bottom cupboard is a later piece of plyboard. There are a few small cracks and chips to the veneer, but otherwise the condition is reasonably good. One glass panel is cracked.
