

Asian and Islamic Ceramics and Works of Art / Thu, 10th December 2020 / Lot 1144

LOT 1144

A Chinese mandarin's purple silk hat, late Qing dynasty, with black velvet trim, red tassels and gilt metal mounted blue glass spherical finial, surmounted with a shou medallion, length 26.5cm, together with a black silk folding mandarin's cap with coral finial and a mandarin's peacock feather court hat plume, length 40cm, within original silk box.

Estimate: £300 - £500

Condition Report

Hat - some wear to the velvet brim and inner edge, the purple silk in generally good order. The glass finial has a small bruise to one side and typical light surface scratches, otherwise good.

Cap - in generally good condition with no significant damage or repairs.

Plume - appears to be in good condition, the outer paper sleeve is worn and creased. The silk case has significant wear to the top and bottom with some losses to the top and edge.

Created: Thu, 3rd December 2020 15:48