Condition Report

1150. The clock appears to be in generally good condition. The case has typical surface wear and scuffs, but no significant damage or repairs, with some minor fading to timber and minor gapping to the joints of moulding. The dial is in good order, the substantial brass movement all appear to be ok. The mercury jar is well filled, but please be aware it has a loose top (possibly missing a securing piece), so would need to be re-housed for transit. Glass and mirror back in good order. The case has a key. The clock is from a deceased estate collector, who has had it in his collection for approx 30 years.
