Condition Report

Overall quite faded with associated muting of colour, but some hints of blue still visible in the sky. No visible tears or spots of foxing. Very minor age toning to paper.

Gilt mount does not appear to be archival and has a scuff to the mount on the left hand side. Gilt frame has some discolouration and other scuffs and scratches. Some of the beading to the outer edge has been restored and some is also missing. Other minor loss to extremities. Some detritus trapped between glass and mount but this has not transferred to the paper. Unexamined out of the frame and back is sealed with modern paper.
