

Fine Art / Wed, 3rd February 2021 / Lot 76

LOT 76

John Varley - A Path Leading to a Mansion among Trees, early 19th century watercolour, 11cm x 17cm, within a gilt frame. Note: old cuttings to the reverse suggests this was sold at Christies, June 5th 1973, with the provenance of William Feilden.

Estimate: £80 - £120

Condition Report

Unsigned. Some light age toning to paper, slightly heavier browning around the edge mount. Very faint pale spotting visible in the sky. Slightly faded. Mount is not archival. Frame with minor scuffs and scratches. Unexamined out of the frame.

Created: Fri, 22nd January 2021 21:18