Condition Report

1017. Generally good condition with no significant damage or repairs. Couple of tiny nibbles to the edge of the dial at 7 o'clock, but generally dial is good and clean as it appears in the online images. The movement winds and runs, but sub dials do not function at present. The movement does not have a winding crown so unable to tell if it runs, but when given a light shake the balance moves freely for a few seconds. The dial is in generally good order with a few typical light scuffs and scratches to edge.
