Condition Report

510. One of the diamonds has a vertical gletz inclusion visible through the table facet of the stone. The diamonds otherwise slightly draw colour and have a few internal inclusions. The claws have been re-tipped in the past and look to be currently secure. Some variation of cut to the diamond points, all of which are present. The shank is a little thin at the back, in due course this may need replacing. Suggested age – early 20th century.
