LOT 759

A gold, sapphire, diamond and cultured pearl brooch, designed as a winged insect, unmarked, weight 4.4g, width 3.2cm, with a case.

Estimate: £200 - £300

Condition Report

759. The brooch is a modern reproduction of a late Victorian inspired design. There is no visible markings to indicate the metal. It has the appearance of being silver gilt. The cultured pearl is in good condition. The sapphires are medium to pale colour saturation, they may have been treated to enhance colour and clarity. The diamonds are rather cloudy stones as a result of a combination of having numerous internal inclusions and being subjected to heat in the mounting of them. The case is associated and not original to the brooch.
