

Glassware / Thursday, 29th July 2021 / Lot 1710

LOT 1710

A Stourbridge cameo glass biscuit barrel with plated cover and mounts, probably Thomas Webb, circa 1890, the gently tapered circular body of translucent turquoise blue colour, overlaid in opaque white and carved with a butterfly amidst flowers and foliage, unmarked, height to top of rim 12cm.

Estimate: £400 - £600

Condition Report

1710. Glass is in good condition with no chips, cracks or repairs. There is a small manufacturing blemish to the underside of the curved body near the base. The plated mounts have some wear. Typical light scratches, but no significant damage or repairs.

Created: Wed, 28th July 2021 16:24