

Prints, Maps and Posters / Wed, 18th August 2021 / Lot 46

LOT 46

William Heath - 'Oh What a Falling off was There! fully accounted the Hero lay' (Duke of Wellington), etching with later hand-colouring, published by Thomas Maclean circa 1829, 27cm x 39cm, within a gilt frame, together with three further 19th century satirical etchings by William Heath of Duke of Wellington interest, 'How to Keep One's Place A.D. 1833', 'Majesty & Grace', and 'Finis'.

Estimate: £150 - £250

---

Condition Report

46. Some light browning, surface dirt and age toning to all prints. Most with some minor fading and degrees of foxing. Loose prints have minor creases and small nicks to margins, one with glue stains to margins. The one mount is not archival. The framed print in similar condition, the mount is not archival and frame has numerous chips and scuffs.

Created: Mon, 16th August 2021 12:06