LOT 641

A gold, diamond and turquoise brooch, designed as a fawn, the eye and the pendant bell diamond set, the body mounted with an oval turquoise, unmarked, weight 7.1g, width 2.2cm, with a case.

Estimate: £80 - £120

Condition Report

641. The turquoise has a few surface flaws around the edge and is of a pale blue/green colour. The diamond eye is in good condition but has a few internal inclusions. The hook and hinge to the clasp have been replaced, probably with the use of lead solder. The piece is unmarked, so we can't provide an accurate estimate of carat of gold.
