LOT 1205

A late 19th century ormolu and white marble clock garniture, the clock with eight day movement striking on a bell, the circular enamel dial with black Arabic hour numerals and outer minutes and flower festoons, the square case flanked and surmounted with an ormolu classical maiden and two cupids, the breakfront base with inset frolicking putti panel, on toupie feet, height 33.5cm, with pendulum and winding key, flanked by a pair of matching three-branch candelabra, each rose and stem branch supported by a cupid stem, on a cylindrical plinth with applied flower festoons, acanthus and vine bands, on toupie feet, height 36cm (minor faults).

Estimate: £500 - £800

Condition Report

1205. The clock is in very good clean condition with no significant damage or repairs. Typical minor nicks to edges of winding holes of dial. Movement winds smoothly and runs but please be aware we give no guarantees to working order or reliability of any clock or watch. Striking mechanism working.

Candelabra in generally good decorative order. One leaf on stem obviously broken off and missing. Otherwise seems ok.
