LOT 2343

A British East India Company 1827 pattern naval officer's sword with slightly curved pipe-back blade with quill point, blade length 76cm, etched with crests and fouled anchor and detailed 'W. Simpson 24 Leadenhall St London', gilt brass hilt with folding guard, wire-bound fishskin grip and lion's head pommel, with brass mounted leather sheath.

Estimate: £400 - £600

Condition Report

2343 - The blade has been slightly overcleaned and has some remaining minor areas of tarnish, as well as numerous small nicks to the blade edge. The hilt is securely attached. The scabbard mounts are all quite dented but otherwise in fairly good order.
