LOT 1273

A Japanese silk embroidered panel, Meiji/Taisho period, finely worked in coloured threads with a group of five pigeons pecking at the ground beside a blossoming branch, against a black ground, 74.5cm x 56.5cm, framed and glazed.

Estimate: £200 - £300

Condition Report

1273. Silkwork in generally good condition with nice vibrant colours and attractively coloured stitching. No apparent damage. Few minor spots of discolouration, but nothing obviously noticeable. Ebonized frame with scuffs, knocks and wear.
