LOT 1203

A Chinese famille verte enamelled porcelain vase and cover, late Qing dynasty, the baluster body painted with birds perched on rocks between bamboo and peony on a green ground, height 28cm (drilled hole to base and cover, converted to a table lamp), together with brass table lamp fitting stand.

Estimate: £150 - £250

Condition Report

1203. Vase appears to have had a slightly reduced/ground down rim with some minor loss to green enamel around the top of neck. Drilled hole to base and some glaze blemishes, otherwise body in generally good order. Cover has drilled hole through top so no finial, otherwise ok.
