

British and Continental Ceramics / Thu, 25th November 2021 / Lot 1255

LOT 1255

An unusual porcelain figure of a Chinese vase seller, probably French, late 19th century, modelled as a kneeling male Chinese figure surrounded by six Canton style famille rose palette vases and holding another, raised on a naturalistic base, unmarked, height 17cm (minor chips).

Estimate: £50 - £100

Condition Report

1255 - A couple of chips to the underside of the rim of the hat. Slightly larger chip to one of the front feet. A few minor losses to the enamel decoration of the pots and to the back of the figure. Otherwise in good condition.

Created: Tue, 16th November 2021 15:36