

British and Continental Ceramics / Thu, 25th November 2021 / Lot 1368

LOT 1368

A Berlin porcelain figure group, 19th century, modelled as a seated courting couple, the lady playing a hurdy gurdy, the man leaning over to her, raised on an oval naturalistic base, underglaze blue sceptre mark to base, height 16cm (minor faults).

Estimate: £50 - £80

Condition Report

1368 - The lady has lost a thumb on one hand. A small portion of the handle of the musical instrument is lacking. The bottom of the man's jacket is chipped. Some general wear to the gilding. Minor losses to the enamel decoration particularly on the hat.

Created: Tue, 16th November 2021 16:01