

British and Continental Ceramics / Thu, 25th November 2021 / Lot 1372

LOT 1372

A Gallé style pottery dog, early 20th century, modelled seated with glass eyes, decorated with red and white hearts and other motifs, height 30.5cm, together with a Gallé style pottery cat, modelled seated with glass eyes and a smiling expression, height 24cm (both with some restoration).

Estimate: £80 - £120

Condition Report

1372 - Dog: both front legs have some restoration, both broken off in the past and repaired. General scratching to the painted decoration, noticeable particularly across the back. Light surface wear to the glass eyes. Some crazing in places.

Cat: one front leg has some restoration, broken off in the past and repaired. Hairline crack to the back of the body. Some generally surface wear, most noticeable on the tail which has some loss of decoration. Some light scratching to the glass eyes.

Created: Tue, 16th November 2021 16:03